FAQs for 2026 Twin River Classic I & II

Q: What are the Show Office hours?

A: Friday 1:00 pm to 6:30 pm. Pony Measurements will begin at 5:00 pm on Friday. Exact times will be communicated to those who have requested measurements from the show management prior to the show. Sound checks on Friday from 5:30 pm to 6:30 pm. On Saturday and Sunday, the Show Office opens one hour before the first ride of the day and closes 30 minutes after the last ride of the day.

Q: Where is the Show Office?

A: Show office location: at the north end of the main barn in separate show office building. Follow signage. Come to the Show Office to check in, changes, fees, or with any questions you have. The Show Office has an area for the scoring team who need quiet for data entry; please don't disturb them.

Q: I have a few hours. Can I volunteer at this show?

A: Yes! And thank you! Riders please sign up for a minimum two-hour shift sometime during the weekend. Show management will work with you to make this easy. The volunteer coordinator is located outside the show office.

Q: Can I be a scribe at this show?

A: We try to secure all needed scribes prior to the start of the show, but every now and again we need someone to fill in. If you have scribing experience and are interested in seeing if there are slots available, come to the show office.

Q: Where are the ride times by rider?

A: Day Sheets (Ride Time Sheets) list the rider/horse in each class and the exact time that pair will be in the show ring. Ride times will be posted and available through Fox Village (www.foxvillage.com) and Day Sheets are posted by the Show Office. Remember to double check your ride times as they may have changed from the preliminary ride times sent out earlier in the week.

Q: Where are the results posted?

A: Results will be available online through Fox Village at www.foxvillage.com. Results by class, with rankings, are printed on physical sheets and posted outside the show office. Please allow time after the last ride of the class for results. For large classes or classes with out-of-order rides interim scores may be posted and labeled as "interim."

Q: Are results also posted online?

A: Yes. Scores will be posted to Fox Village (www.foxvillage.com) in real time as soon as the test is scored.

Q: When and where can I pick up my tests/ribbons?

A: Once your class closes and the final results are posted, you may pick up your test and ribbons outside the show office. Please allow time for large classes to close and the scoring office to validate scores.

Q: I want to leave, but results aren't posted yet. Will you just mail me my test and ribbon?

A: If you need to leave before your class results are posted, you may have a representative you designate pickup your test and ribbon, or you can come to the office and request your test is mailed to you. Sorry, no ribbons will be mailed.

Q: What if I need a vet or farrier?

USDF Statement on Animal Welfare

The United States Dressage Federation, Inc. (USDF), a federation of individual members and over 100 independent organizations throughout the United States, supports the concept of ethical treatment of animals.

Dressage is a classical method of training horses, based upon the horse's natural responses, as carried out in a gradual, planned program during which the horse's athletic abilities are improved in a systematic manner. As a result, the horse becomes capable, comfortable, and responsive in partnership with the rider without the use of force. Dressage competition at various levels of achievement is the ultimate test of the training program to determine whether the desired harmony between horse and rider has been achieved.

The rules pertaining to dressage competition prohibit the use of artificial appliances, training aids, and drugs, which would force the horse to submit. Instead, the emphasis is upon training and a cooperative partnership with the rider. Major competitions are carefully monitored to assure that there is no unnecessary force or harshness displayed.

Unlike other horse sports in which horses enter training at a relatively immature state, dressage training is usually not seriously begun until the horse is three or four. The top levels of achievement require five or more years of progressive training and it is not unusual to see horses in international competition in their late teens. This, in itself, places a premium on good care and soundness throughout the horse's life.

While supporting the concept of animal welfare in its broadest form, the United States Dressage Federation, Inc., also recognizes that it is unrealistic to ascribe human emotions and responses to the horse which in its wild state is a creature of flight, living a hard and precarious existence. Under domestication, the horse is assured of ample food, water, and shelter, as well as protection against infectious diseases and damaging parasites, thus leading a longer and healthier life with a high rate of survival.

As an educational organization, USDF has numerous programs, which teach people how to pursue the accepted, humane training methods. A program of certifying instructors also emphasizes protecting the horse's welfare in pursuit of dressage training.
